

Business License Case To Be Tried Friday

George Palmer Test Case of Arlington License Ordinance

The George Palmer business license trial will be held in the Arlington Heights municipal building Friday night, the case being called before Judge Behrens with a possible change of venue.

Mr. Palmer has publicly declared that in his belief the assessment of a business license against plumbers is unlawful, that the present business license as enforced by the village of Arlington Heights is void, principally because it creates a tax without giving a service to the person or firm against whom the tax is assessed.

The village takes the stand that as long as the business license collection is collected nearly 100% from local firms as well as outside firms coming into Arlington Heights, no exception should be made in Mr. Palmer's case.

It has been no secret that the payment of a business license by certain class of businesses has been voluntary, an act of "good fellowship," in return for which the village has cooperated in paying part of the salary of a watchman for the business district and has kept out of the village vendors and firms who were unwilling to pay a license fee.

It is also no open secret that in some instances, outside firms who originally took the same position as does Mr. Palmer, had paid the required fee rather than face prosecution.

The action of Mr. Palmer may force the passage of a new ordinance with inspection fees that will be uncontested by people in the same line of business as Mr. Palmer.

In the meantime Geo. Palmer has thrown a monkey wrench in the business licensing machinery of the village and if Mr. Palmer wins, may cost the village considerable yearly rental and lead to the necessity of the creation of new taxes, or curtailment of the service that the municipality is now giving to local business firms.

Mr. Palmer, in commenting upon the situation Monday, said, "I was once a candidate for public office upon a platform of lower taxation; that is still my platform and it is not the $10 that is involved that I object to, but the assessment against me of an unjust and illegal tax."

Sues For $10,000 For Auto Injuries

Suit for $10,000 damages for automobile accident injuries was filed in Superior court Friday for Dorothy Stejskal, a minor by her father, Thomas Stejskal, against Frank Gerner. It states that Dorothy was, on Jan. 16, riding in the automobile of William Reine in Lincoln avenue near Main street, Niles Center, when Gerner's car, collided with Reine's car. It is claimed Gerner was driving in the wrong traffic lane. Dorothy was seriously injured, the complaint alleges.

Even after coming to town, the couple could not give up their love for nature and growing things, and Charles's garden and Bertha's flowers have been among the finest in town year after year.

The police department has had a great many complaints.

Sight and Hearing Tests Given School Children By Puffer and WPA

Failure of school children to make the grades that they should have made, because of the fact that their hearing ability and sight were impaired is being remedied by Noble J. Puffer, County Supt. of Schools, assisted by the Works Progress Administration.

WPA has been conducting ear and eye tests in the schools of Cook county since March, 1937. These tests are under the supervision of a public health nurse.

The regulation eye testing charts and a 4-B audiometer, which is a phonograph to which has been added a telephone apparatus, are used. The student places the transmitter on one ear and writes what is heard on a paper. The transmitter is then placed on the other ear and what is heard is written. The paper is divided according to "right ear" and "left ear." The hearing loss is given for each space. The sounds are given to the children at first very clearly and then gradually diminished.

The results of these tests are given to the parents of the children, in order that their physician may be consulted for corrective measures. In most cases, such as hardened wax in the ear, the trouble can be easily corrected. Other cases require a longer treatment.

For the hearing test, there have been 115 schools visited and 10,848 examinations made, out of which 1,246 children were found to have impaired hearing. For the sight test, there were 47 schools visited and 2,987 examinations made, out of which 621 children were found with impaired sight.

The work has been extended to the orphanages, children's institutions, colleges and private schools.

State Police Head Acts Against Towing Racket

Without A Hat, 'John D.' Bowls 686 In A. B. C.

Friends of John Duthorn, Arlington Heights, were surprised to learn Wednesday that the Arlington ace bowler had secured a 686 series to take third place in the American Bowling Congress at the Coliseum—without a hat.

The insurance agent rarely doffs his hat while bowling on the Arlington Recreation alleys where he bowls regularly with the Arlington Blatz team. The superstition was necessarily waived when A. B. C. rules forbade gentlemen with hats to appear on the alleys.

Hat or no hat, the insurance agent made a name for his home town by defeating some of the nation's best bowlers after the first two weeks of bowling. His 686 series follows 689 and 688 series in this year's tournament.

Mr. Duthorn's best series is 721 in his years of experience in the sport. He bowled a perfect "300" in 1927.

H. H. Hart Of Palatine Dies At 62

H. H. Hart for over fifty years a resident of Palatine and head of James R. Baker & Co., Chicago Commission merchants, died suddenly at his home Thursday of pneumonia.

Mr. Hart had been ill for less than a week, going to bed Saturday before suffering from a severe cold; pneumonia developed and he passed away quietly Thursday afternoon.

Funeral services were held at the home Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. with Rev. Frederick J. Schnell officiating.

The services were largely attended by Mr. Hart's host of friends from Palatine and Chicago. A large delegation of his fellow commission men came out to pay their respects and express their sympathy to the family.

Old schoolmates who have been away from Palatine for many years, returned for the funeral to pay a last tribute to an old pal.

The floral tributes from friends in all walks of life were many and beautiful.

"Hutch" Hart, as he was known to his friends, grew up in Palatine and was educated in the Palatine schools. He was always active in athletics and played on many of the famous Palatine baseball teams of the past.

He was also keenly interested in everything that was for the best interests of his community and had countless friends among people in all walks of life.

Se was a member of the Palatine Methodist church, a member of the official board of that church and was a member of and took a great deal of pleasure in that institution's bowling league.

Mr. Hart's death was a shock to the entire community and on all sides could be heard the quiet tribute "A real man is gone."

Blames Garage Men As Well As Officers For Excessive Charges

The expose of the towing racket made in the Paddock Publications last week, brought swift and decisive action on the part of Chief Taylor and the police department of the state. Mr. Taylor took personal charge of the investigation and state officers were called into headquarters and plainly told that prompt dismissal would follow receipt of evidence against any officer found soliciting or accepting money from any garage owner.

"It is not only the officers, who are to blame for such a racket," states Mr. Taylor, "but also the garage men who seek business by offering commissions to the officers. We pay the men a good salary and there is no reason why any towing racket should be set up."

Last week's issue carried an interview with a Palatine garage owner who claimed that state officers had asked for a commission from fees charged by an owner for a car hauled by his tow truck. The story appeared Thursday morning. Within a few hours an investigation was upon its way.

It was found that garagemen were reluctant to name instances or give names and the tracing of the stories revealed a confusion between identity of state and county officers.

Mr. Taylor informed the editor that he had fired officers who had taken as low as one dollar from a motorist and that his office is constantly upon the lookout for irregularities of this nature and solicits the cooperation of the public. "We can only stop this practice if the public will supply the facts," continued Mr. Taylor.

The alleged towing racket was a new one to Mr. Taylor. Instances of shake downs are not unusual, but the partnership of garage men and officers in the towing business is evidently an outgrowth of keen competition between owners of tow trucks.

Mr. Taylor made it plain that the state police officers are upon the highways to save lives by curbing speeders and other violators of the state laws. It is their duty to render every aid possible to both parties to an accident and when an officer with the connivance of a tow truck owner tries to victimize a car owner there is no place in the state police system for the man.

Car owners who have been in an accident, have the perfect right to choose the garage man who shall move that car and there is no excuse for exorbitant fees.

In a recent bulletin issued state officers are warned that their duties end after arrest of a violator or investigation of an accident. When a man is taken to a judge, the officer has no right to even suggest to the judge the amount of fine to be inflicted.

"The state police force," states Mr. Taylor, "is a service to the public and each officer should so conduct himself as to be a credit to the department and by his actions merit the confidence of everybody. It should be an honor to wear a state uniform."

THE VILLAGE PARSON SAYS:

All of us have our hero. It may be: The engineer that pilots a modern stream-lined locomotive;

It may be the racing car driver who whirls around the track at so many miles per hour and establishes a new record;

It may be the man that can take an airplane across the ocean or around the world;

It may be the king of swat who can thrill the crowds with his home runs;

Or, it may be the engineer that can design and construct a Boulder Dam or an Empire State Building or a Bridge of the Gods across the Columbia River gorge.

These and many others may be some one's hero, BUT . . . If the locomotive engineer walks out of his cab into a corner saloon and there weakens his physical and mental faculties by imbibing of whatever they have to sell, he is not my hero.

If the king of swat knocks out a homer with the bases loaded thereby winning the game and is carried off the field by the shoulders of his admirers and then requires a trainer to put him in shape for the next day's game after a night of debauchery, he is not my hero.

If the construction engineer builds big buildings, long bridges, however marvelous, and does so at the expense of fair wages, wanton sacrifice of life, and miserly hoards his riches, he is no hero of mine.

My hero is the man that can "overcome." God expects us to be overcomers.

"To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life." (Rev. 2:7).

Frederick J. Schnell,
"The Village Parson."

Judge Jonas, Chicago, Speaker At P. T. A.

An interested audience listened to Judge Edgar A. Jonas of Chicago at the Parent-Teacher meeting Tuesday evening which was held at the high school.

The speaker's subject was "Community Building Institutions" and he spoke of the Parent-Teacher association as one of these institutions. He called attention to the fact that the newspapers would lead one to think that the "underdog" was in a great majority in this country, for they are the type of citizen that get all of the publicity. It is the ordinary citizen leading his good life that keeps the character of the people moving in the right direction.

Members of Parent-Teacher associations can do more than the courts in building character, for they can start early in building character in their children, where as the courts get the child after he has already done wrong. The parent can teach his child to be honest by being honest himself, and teaching his child to respect his parents. Judge Jonas says that this is a noticeable characteristic of juvenile offenders, the lack of proper respect for their elders. A child's largest mirror is the reflection he sees of his father and mother in it. Be what you want your child to be. The Girl's Glee club of the high school sang and Melvin Preston played numbers on his piano accordion, to complete the program.

LETTERS to the Editor

Do you have a dog? Then read this. Last week three children of the N. W. side are known to have been bitten. A ten year old girl of No. Mitchell, was attacked and severely wounded. A high school boy of W. Hawthorne and a small child of No. Highland. Who knows, your child may be next.

If you have a vicious dog, can't something be done? The police are doing all they can to check this, but need your co-operation.

A Worried Mother.

It Happened Here

Some one should write the ballad of the trees of Arlington Heights—trees that make a blossomy fairyland in the spring, in summer a gracious shade to arch our streets, such colors in the fall as only an artist dare conceive, and now! After a snow fall and a bit of sleet, the brush on the back lot is a crystal pleasure for the rabbit and the stalling, the cherry trees bear a fruit strange to Vaughan's catalogue, and on this night of stars, the maples, ice-coated to their tips, out sparkle Orion and his fellows. A snow storm is a fair substitute for a trip to foreign places—every roof and gable changes its shape, chimneys wear stork nests of snow, gargoyles peek from church cornices, from the eaves suspends a fancy scroll work, posts sport jaunty caps and porch railings are as deftly and deceptively cushioned—for a few breathless moments one may wander through a virgin and unmapped town; we are certainly allergic to weather—let us have another snow storm or two with bob sleds and sleigh bells and girls wearing fascinator hats. It seems the squirrel took umbrage at something we wrote about him—red, indeed! Well, one has to be careful in these matters, considering his lineage and the family tree from which he sprang. We have always wanted to see some one take umbrage—how is it done?—with a spoon, a salad fork or the tongs, or better still, the way the delicate ladies of Cranford managed with an orange? . . . They do themselves jolly well, the English; here's Squire Wendover at breakfast, "turning to the Times which lay, warmed and aired for him, at his elbow on the table." Well, well! With our copy of The Herald, warmed and aired—please see to it, Jules. . . . What we really need is a well-warmed type writer—swat, swat!

For Himself In This Band

The use of "trial and error" recordings which they make in great numbers is the fantastic explanation for the unique musical style of Raymond Scott and his Quintet. The secret of how which have swept the nation in recent months came out recently on the Twentieth Century-Fox film lot. In a musical laboratory of sound equipment, which the studio built at a cost of $5,000, Scott and his Quintet work regular hours each day to perfect such numbers as "Poverhouse" which they play in the Walter Winchell-Bernie-Simone Simon picture, "Love and Hisses." The film comes Sunday and Monday to the Arlington Theatre.

In this laboratory they compose arrangements with each man adding what he thinks best to the number. Each player is his own boss in this serious "jam session." As they play, everything is recorded and then they gather to listen to the records and decide which of the impromptu compositions is the best. They fill about thirty records a day, but all are destroyed but one or two which are used again as they attempt to add other touches. Scott and his Quintet sometimes make as many as 2,500 records before a number is perfected.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 13.

The Golden Text was, "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus" (Philippians 4:19).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear" (Hebrews 11:1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substances, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen'" (p. 468).

We have been studying about the different kinds of weather and what causes the changes. We wrote stories and chose these as some of the best ones:

Sleet
Do you know what sleet really is? Well, there are layers of air in the sky. When rain falls from the sky, it goes through layers of air. If the layer of air is cold, the rain freezes into sleet, and that's why we have sleet.

They will paint the kites bright colors. Soon they will fly them at recess or after school. They will have a "Kite Day."

Loneliness Is Greatest Sorrow, Dr. Maier Asserts

"The most widespread sorrow in America today is loneliness," Dr. Walter A. Maier said Sunday in his coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour broadcast, "yet all the pangs of human loneliness do not compare with the abysmal loneliness Jesus endured through the sufferings commemorated by the Lenten Season."

The Lutheran theologian asserted America is afflicted with the emotional type of religion, with "too many changes from hot to cold, and from 'Hallelujah' to 'Crucify Him'." The call of the hour, he said, is for sound Scriptural indoctrination and a clear understanding of the true facts of the faith on the part of both pulpit and pew.

"Our world shows the same indifference to the sufferings of the lonely Christ," Dr. Maier continued, "as the disciples who three times fell into heavy sleep and thus failed in a great crisis. Our statesmen have closed their eyes to the great soul needs of the hour, even some churches slumber on in distracted indifference to the Cross of Christ."

The great in history often have been lone figures, Dr. Maier pointed out, citing Livingstone dying alone in Africa; Lincoln, loneliest of all Presidents; Luther, the lone monk defying a world in arms against him; Admiral Byrd, isolated in Little America; Lindbergh, flying the Atlantic alone; Napoleon, pacing the sands of St. Helena.

Niles Center Man Named In Will

The will of the late Hulda Kahl, who died in Chicago, Jan. 21, was admitted to probate Friday. It disposes of an estate estimated worth $20,000, half of which is real estate. Among several bequests is one of $1,000 and an interest in a trust fund to Amy M. Burge, a friend of Niles Center. Elmer E. Burge, of Niles Center, is made executor of the will and trustee of two trusts.

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"Who decides whether a Bank loan shall be granted?"

In most banks there is a loan committee which passes on loan applications. This committee is made up of bank officers specializing in loaning work. In many instances this committee includes some of the bank directors. Loans up to a certain amount are usually passed on by a single officer of the bank in the loaning department. In a broad sense most decisions on loans are guided by banking laws and regulations, and by recognized principles of sound bank management. Generally speaking, character, credit standing and collateral are the three most important factors to be considered in making decisions on loan applications.

This bank welcomes the opportunity to make useful loans, under sound banking requirements, which will help the borrower and the community, and safeguard the deposits entrusted to its care.

Schools To Get Federal Aid Is 85 Million Dollar Project

Mrs. Van der Vries Tells of Education Problems And how Plan will Help

Schools in Cook county may benefit from the federal government's contemplated $85,000,000 program for the improvement of schools, according to Bernice T. Van der Vries, representative of the seventh district of the Illinois General Assembly. Mrs. Van der Vries has prepared an answer to the many inquiries about the educational plan that is believed will relieve the critical public school system throughout the country.

It is rumored that Governor Horner is expecting to call a special session immediately after the primary elections and in the call will include the matter of a State Board of Education for Illinois. Miss Van der Vries writes from the viewpoint of a member of the Education committee of the House of Representatives and is fully cognizant of the school situation. Her first article on the series of "Problems in Education" follows.

"What is the matter with American education?"

"Why did President Roosevelt recently send to Congress a report, largely prepared by Chicago educators, which asks that the Federal government provide $855,000,000 over a period of years for American schools?"

"Why have associations of school boards and teachers in Illinois so constantly implored the Illinois General Assembly for huge increases in state aid for the public schools of Illinois?"

"Why has Governor Horner steadfastly refused to countenance any such increased aid until the legislature shall have established a state board of education?"

And why have numerous individuals, politicians and civic organizations been unable to agree upon the kind of a State Board which would be able to really accomplish something beneficial to schools?

Electorate Must Be Educated

"All these questions are rooted in the fundamental thesis that in order to preserve democracy in this country there must be universal education of the electorate. No intelligent person is disputing this thesis; but there is grave concern over ways and means of financing schools adequately but at the same time so as not to take away the integrity of teachers' freedom to teach, nor from local school boards and administrators the freedom to operate schools on a local home-rule basis. The questions can therefore be grouped in three classes:

- "1. The causes for and the meaning of aid for federal education.
- "2. The problem of state aid for the schools of Illinois.
- "3. The significance behind the almost universal demand for a state board of education.

"I shall discuss in this article Cause No. 1.

What Federal Aid Has Meant

"There is nothing new in the idea of Federal aid to education. The state universities found their origin through Federal aid. Across the country there is a definite trail of land grants to public schools. Some of the most valuable real estate holdings of the Chicago board of education had this origin. One commentator says that the United States has given to the states an area larger than Italy in such land grants for schools, and today is giving some $54,000,000 yearly for vocational, agricultural and home economics instruction.

"In the United States there is being spent $2,400,000,000 annually to keep schools open, build new schools, teach adults, and to help youth in National Youth Administration and in the Civilian Conservation Corps. There is an office of education under the Secretary of the Interior, and for years there has been a campaign on the part of educators to have a department of education established in the United States government with its secretary in the president's cabinet.

"Moreover, there has been a continuous demand for very large appropriations from the Federal treasury to support schools that, according to common observation, cannot support themselves adequately to provide decent education to the children whom they serve. It is this latter situation which is the subject of the report recently completed by the commission headed by Professor Floyd W. Reeves of the University of Chicago.

"There are four principal phases which the study of American schools discloses. These may be grouped under four questions:

- "1. Where are the most impoverished areas in America?"
- "2. Where are the poorest schools in the country?"
- "3. Where is the largest increase in child-birth?"
- "4. What is the greatest source of the growth of our great urban populations?"

Race Reproduced By Poorly Educated

"Oddly, maps drawn with the greatest accuracy covering data answering these questions will, if superimposed on each other, match almost identically. That is, where we have the lowest standards of living among white people, we have the highest birth rate and the children, suffering from the most inadequate educational facilities, constitute the great stream of internal migration from the country to the cities.

"Greater significance attaches to this picture when we realize that the present populations of the cities where the greatest educational facilities are afforded do not reproduce themselves and thus the traditions of American democracy, culture and standards of living, if they are to be perpetuated, must be the task of the underprivileged and under-educated people who, in order to escape the dreary monotony of the impoverished areas of the country, are constantly streaming to the cities.

"Needly Regions Are Classified

"Without going too much into detail, it may be said that the areas most greatly in need of the simplest fundamentals of education lie primarily in the southeastern and southwestern cotton belts, the neighborhoods of the great 'dust bowl,' the southern end of the Appalachian Mountains and in the cut-over timber areas of the Great Lakes. Generally speaking the future culture of America rests with the almost indigent children of the southern farmers. Contrary to general assumption, the southern negro is not a great factor in the situation at this time, due to heavy infant mortality.

"To quote directly from the report of the Reeves committee, 'Glaring inequalities characterize educational opportunities and expenditures for schools throughout the nation. The level of educational service that can be maintained under present circumstances in many localities is below the minimum necessary for the preservation of democratic institutions.'

Federal Aid May Threaten Democracy

"The question up to Congress will be how to assist in this national effort without endangering the very democratic institutions for which universal education is advocated. How can the Federal government pour out $85,000,000 for school support without endangering teacher, integrity and home-rule? Difficulties attendant to the federal administration of relief and unemployment give one cause to pause and consider the federal program of education.

The committee recommends that over a period of six years the great bulk of the money shall go for elementary and secondary education, but that considerable items should be allowed in the field of ### teacher training, school building, educational research, adult education, rural libraries and in state administration of education.

"It is suggested that for the first fiscal year, that of 1939-1940, the expenditures shall total $70,000,000, and that they shall increase until in the last year they shall amount to $199,000,000.

Local Needs To Decide Amount of Aid

"The most significant thing, perhaps, about the recommendations is that the money shall be distributed among the states according to their local needs, thus barring federal control of what the schools should teach.

"Since Illinois is second in wealth of the States of the Union it is doubtful whether any Federal funds would be allocated to this state although we have some of the poorest schools in the country. There is, however, special significance to the citizens of Illinois in this general movement, because of the activity of all friends of education toward the same general problem within our own state that is reflected on a greater scale in the entire national scheme of education."

New Insulation For Homes To Be Put On Market Here

A new firm, the Des Plaines Insulators is making a bow to the home owners and builders of Northwest Cook county. The new business will soon be ready to announce the extent of the venture.

The purpose of the concern is to carry and install a new method of insulation in homes that, according to exhaustive tests, has been proven to be away ahead of any other form of insulation so far put on the market.

The new material is known as Reflect-O-Cell. The theory of the product is that it reflects the heat and cold instead of just preventing leakage as other insulating materials do. According to the manufacturers, Reflect-O-Cell is 92% effective in comparison to celotex which is 48% and rock wool, 61%.

Interested with Miss L. Bennett, real estate operator, is Mr. De Luca and they expect to develop a big business in this line. $5.00 and a few dollars a month will make your home the place of all-year round comfort you have dreamed about," is the way for the product they will gladly the distributors describe their sales demonstrate the efficacy of the appeal. To prove all that is claimed insulation.

How Word "Blackguard" Started
The term "blackguard" was used in the sixteenth century with reference to the lowest menials of a noble house, the scullions who cleaned pots and pans. It was also used of the hangers-on of an army camp and of vagabonds in general.

MAC
SAYS

—By—

Gerald A.
Mc Elroy

Basketball is about over except the state tournament and who will win that is very much a question? Season's records do not count. There will probably not be so much to choose between 10 of the best represented in the 16 team tournament. It all depends upon which of these better teams is in the best condition following the strenuous tournaments of the past weeks. Another factor is whether the boys can stand the pressure of big time play and still not blow up.

We Like Rockford

Braidwood and Rock Island in the upper bracket and Dundee and Rockford in the lower bracket look good to us. We are making a guess of Rockford and Braidwood in the state finals with Rockford the winner. We may change our opinion after seeing the teams in action.

Start Track Work

The weather of the past week-end reminded us that track season is just around the corner. We smoothed up the track, rolled it down and had a few boys out Friday for a conditioning workout. The track is in pretty good shape and we at Palatine expect the largest turnout of boys since the sport was introduced here. Most of them, however, will be inexperienced.

Plan for Oak Park Relays

The first track event that most of the schools of the conference will attend will be the Oak Park Indoor Relays Saturday, April 2. It is seldom that the schools of this league win many points at Oak Park due to the lack of opportunities for practice so early in the season but it serves as a stimulus to get the boys working and a chance to see some good competition and find out which boys are most likely to win the points later on in the season.

To Review Track Outlook

We expect to give a week by week preview of the prospects of the teams of the Northwest Conference in track. We wish the various coaches would give us some information about their returning lettermen. This week we will start the ball rolling with a view of the Barrington prospects.

Seven Broncho Lettermen

Coach Clark has 35 boys starting track work among whom are seven boys who won letters in 1937. The outlook at Barrington is much improved over last season but still nothing to cause teams like Arlington or Libertyville any worry. Among his seven veterans Clark does not have any boys who finished as high as third in the conference meet, but several should be right in there this season.

Barrington lettermen are Mountain, Javelin; McLaughlin, mile; Rice, pole vault and hurdles; Saul, high jump; Mitchell, half mile; Nestlerode, dashes and hurdles; Kampert, pole vault and hurdles. Other promising candidates are Shepard in the quarter mile; Welty in the dashes; Herren in the dashes and broad jump; Skinner in the half mile; and Collins and Church in the javelin throw.

Palatine
Married Men
Win 26-24'Spinsters' Lose Out
To Husbands In Third Overtime

The Married Men did it again. This time the score was 26-24 in three overtime periods with Vervloet getting the basket that tied the score with regular play time and then getting the winning goal in the third extra period. The game was played at the school gym in Palatine Tuesday evening.

The single men ran up a 15-9 lead at the half, but the scoring of Neagle, Westrop, and McElroy pulled the married men up on even terms in the last quarter while stellar guarding by Kincaid and Anderson held the bachelors in check.

DeBerge was the high scorer for the bachelors with eight points, while Kuhlman had six and Irons five. McElroy collected 10 points for the winners with Neagle getting six and Hestrop and Vervloet four each.

The seniors came from behind to beat the pick of the underclass boys in the preliminary affair 27-24. The young kids ran up a nice lead of 17-13 at the half and held on until the last period when the seniors' height under the basket began to tell.

Nangles scored seven baskets to lead both teams in points. O'Brien scored six and Haemker five to assist Nangle in the senior point getting. Hahnfeldt counted eight, Snyder six and Hollinger five for the underclass outfit. The game indicated that Coach McElroy will have a small, but very fast and capable ball club next year.

Arlington High School
Holds Inter-Class TourneyBasketball Finals
To Be Played
Friday Night

The usual round of interclass games is closing out basketball at the Arlington Heights high school for the current season. These annual games have all the flavor and fervor of inter-school games. In fact few are fought for any harder than the present inter-class series.

As a rule, the Seniors are highly favored to win the round-robin schedule played and this year is no exception. This week's games got under way Tuesday afternoon when the Seniors downed the Juniors in the first game 22 to 19. In the second game of the afternoon the sophomores took the measure of the Frosh 28 to 19.

The Junior-Senior game was a honey. Both teams exhibited some of the best basketball seen on the local court this year and it was only after a bitter struggle that the Seniors pulled the game out of the fire. In the second game, the sophomores or less toyed with the frosh. The sophs are a real threat this year.

The second round of games is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon when the Frosh play the juniors, and the sophs the seniors.

Final Round Friday at 7:30

The last games are scheduled for Friday night beginning at 7:30 o'clock. For the first time these final games are scheduled to be played at night. Several times in the past outsiders have expressed the desire to see this interclass series, hence the placing of the final games at night. Undoubtedly these last two games, the first between the frosh and the seniors, and the second game between the sophs and the juniors, will decide the school champions for this year. It is almost assured that anyone witnessing these games will pronounce them as interesting as any of the conference games. It is possible and quite likely that these games Friday night may throw the leading teams into a tie necessitating a playoff later. The entire public is invited to these games, for which there is no charge. After the games there will be dancing for those not satisfied with vicarious activities.

Lions Club Bowlers Awarded
Trophies At Dinner Party

The Northwest Highway Lions Club Bowling League came to a close for the 1938 season last Monday night when all the bowlers, members of the clubs and their wives sat down to banquet at the Emmanuel Lutheran school, Des Plaines.

Trophies were awarded, medals presented and speeches were made. All of this was interspersed with entertainment furnished by each club.

The enthusiasm ran so high it was proposed that the league be expanded to include six clubs next year and that a full season of bowling be engaged in. The committee is now working on this matter and will report back to the clubs at a later date.

The final statistics for the season that has just closed are given herewith:

Itasca Takes Zone Title
By Defeating Palatine 35-26Palatine Luthers Miss
19 Free Throws; Both
Go To District Tourney

Itasca won the Northwest Suburban Lutheran Basketball League championship by defeating Palatine 35 to 26.

Itasca jumped out in front by a big margin and led 13 to 2 at the quarter. The Palatine boys seemed to be too tense and missed a lot of their shots. They settled down in the second quarter and drew a little closer to Itasca.

The score at the half was 19 to 10. The scoring in the third quarter was about even. Itasca scoring one more point than their opponents. The count at the end of the third quarter was 28 to 18. Itasca held their own in the last quarter to maintain their lead.

Palatine missed nineteen free throws. Had they made these points they might have won the game. They had quite a bit of tough luck on their shots, the ball rolling around the rim and out.

These two teams go to River Forest to represent the Northwest Suburban Zone in the District Tournament that begins on the 24th of March.

Arlington beat a team from Christ church of Chicago 40 to 36 in the preliminary game.

At the completion of the complete round of intramural basketball games two teams were left tied for the championship. Those captained by Georger and Haake are to play it off for the intramural championship at 3:45 Thursday afternoon. These games mean a lot to those taking part in them. There were thirteen teams playing this year with a total of over one hundred boys taking part. The first team and lightweight regulars were barred and the rest of the boys divided into as nearly equal teams as possible.

Each team has played all the other teams in the league. Their big reward is to have their names engraved on the memorial plaque for intramurals dedicated to their former principal, Mr. V. I. Brown. There has always been a lot of rivalry for the privilege of having their names so permanently listed in the school's trophy display. Assuredly the ultimate year of this signal honor after having run the gauntlet of the twelve regular games, plus the extra game necessitated by the tie.

Match Game Saturday;
Fine Dinner Later By The Parkview Tavern

On Saturday, March 12, the Heilman Old Style Lager team of Arlington Heights, bowling for Pete Unger, the local Booster for Old Style Lager, took on a strong team from South Bend, Indiana, sponsored by Dreyer's Ale of that city, in a match game. The South Bend boys appeared in full uniform from the shoes up and made quite an impression with the fans who watched the match. They came here with a 960 team average, as against a 915 average of Arlington Heights. The score turned out to be very close, the Heights team losing by 12 pins 2972-2960.

After the match, a splendid supper was served to both teams by Mrs. Unger with plenty of good old Heilmann's beer on tap. Needless to say, the evening was enjoyed to the fullest by all the boys.

A return match is scheduled for March 26, at South Bend. The scores follow.

Bowling

by HERB HAMMERL

On 1 and 2 Monday night, Al Pederson provided the big noise with a 254 and a 611 series, while his team, the El Rand, took 2 games from the Cafe. Wally Tesch was high for Cafe with 590. I should mention another bowler who got a 215 game, but I guess I won't.

On 3 and 4, Krause Market just about settled the hash for Blatz by taking all 3 games. That puts Blatz 4 games out of first place and the chance to catch the Hammis is pretty slim. Geo. Harris was high with 634 and Otto Krause got 604 for his third in a row. The Krause Market team are bowling in the A. B. C. tournament Tuesday, March 15-16, so watch the Chicago papers for their scores.

On 5 and 6 the Hammis helped their lead along a bit by taking all three games from the Elevators. Carl Huber got 642 for the night, and also took the "buck" with 247. Not too bad for a "buck" and 6 "Charlie." Well Bill, it looks like you kinda took care of your handicap on your average Monday. I don't blame you with all the tournaments coming on.

The Augusta, Wisconsin, Union writes this about children on tricycles in the streets: "Children, my hasty friend, were here long before you or your automobile were ever thought of. All the automobiles on earth are not worth the life of one little boy on a tricycle. Any competent garage mechanic can put a car together, however badly it is smashed, but nobody on earth can put a child together once its life has been crushed out. We don't know what that child may some day be, but we know what you are, and it's unimportant. We could get along without you, but we can't spare a single little boy on this street."

Well said, Mr. Editor, and congratulations to you for the splendid thought. It's up to us motorists to protect those children who are so full of life and play and fun.

Think while you drive.
